Reasons to visit: Local produce is on the menu at the former residence of Britain's first Prime Minister, Sir Robert Walpole. Houghton-raised meat and vegetables from the award-winning walled garden, Cromer crab, Adnams beer and Aspoll Cyder are on offer, as well as traditional English cakes and unusual combinations like white chocolate and pistachio, and proper afternoon teas.

Signature dishes: Try one of the specials using Houghton lamb or venison.

Open: 11.30am to 5.30pm (Weds, Thurs, Sun).

Cost: Starters from £4.25; mains from £7.50; desserts from £3.25.
